

PREPARING FOR THE CIVIL SERVICES EXAMINATION THIS YEAR?

Economic and Political Weekly (EPW) is a must-read for those who aspire to join the civil services. Every week EPW provides informed commentaries on the current affairs not covered by the mainstream media. In addition, it gives detailed analysis of contemporary trends in India and the world. Reading EPW will give you that edge in all stages of your preparation.

As part of the EPW Translation Project, EPW editorials are translated into seven regional languages and these translated editorials are available on the EPW website.

CALL FOR PROPOSALS

As part of Azim Premji University's efforts to strengthen and elevate action on climate change, we are launching a Research Funding Programme in this area. This is designed to promote increased understanding, and to explore possible action and responses to the climate crisis in India.

We invite high quality proposals that examine significant questions of public concern in the following three areas:

- Climate change education and outreach
- Climate change policy and action
- Climate change adaptation in various sectors of development practice

Duration of the project: 1 year from April 1, 2020
Size of Research Fund: 5 to 20 Lakh INR

Research Funds will be awarded to primarily to individuals or teams affiliated with academic institutions, think tanks, NGOs and other centres of vital research in India. We encourage researchers and practitioners to submit their proposals relevant to the three areas specified. We encourage a diversity of interested applicants in the fields of education, creative arts, development practice, public policy, media, academia, and other areas of relevance to submit proposals.

Interested applicants are requested to visit our website for details and submit the following documents online at

THIRD WORLD RESURGENCE the Third World's own magazine

In today's rapidly changing world, and one often dominated by the western media, Third World Resurgence offers a much-needed alternative view from the perspective of the Third World.

It is produced by a team of journalists and writers who, with equal measures of passion and professionalism, strive to provide a greater articulation of the needs and rights of peoples in the South.

Published by the Third World Network, the magazine covers and provides a critique and analysis on a whole range of issues such as the environment, health and basic needs, international affairs, politics, economics, technology, culture, etc.

This resurging voice of the South invites you to be in solidarity with the Third World – subscribe now and extend this unique invitation to your friends.

• "The most courageous 'distant voices' are in the Third World, and ... (they) produce literature and journalism that have no equivalent in the developed world (like the analyses in Third World Resurgence, published in Malaysia) ..." – John Pilger, in the introduction to his book, Distant Voices.
